Dear Readers, Authors, and Colleagues,

It is with great enthusiasm and a deep sense of responsibility that I welcome you to the inaugural first issue of Zamzam Medical Journal (ZMJ), June 2026. As the Editor-in-Chief, I am honored to lead this new venture dedicated to advancing the field of medical science and improving patient care through rigorous research and open dialogue.

Our mission is to provide a platform for innovative scientific inquiry and a forum for the exchange of ideas among practitioners, researchers, and policy-makers. We aim to publish high-quality, peer-reviewed articles that reflect the latest advancements in medical research, clinical practice, and healthcare policy. We believe that the collaboration of diverse disciplines is essential to addressing the complex challenges facing healthcare today.

In this first issue, we present a selection of thought-provoking articles that showcase some of the most pressing issues in medicine. From groundbreaking research to critical reviews, we hope these articles will inspire and inform our readers. As we embark on this journey, I invite you to participate actively in the growth of our journal.

Your contributions, whether through submissions, reviews, or feedback, are vital to establishing a vibrant community of scholars committed to the pursuit of knowledge and excellence in healthcare.

Thank you for joining us on this exciting path. Together, let us contribute to the betterment of global health.
